

WANTED VOLUNTEERS TO READ

passages from the works of HARASSED, BANNED or IMPRISONED WRITERS.

GLOBAL IMPORTUNE, a London based human rights group seeks readers. Volunteers will read aloud passages from the works of imprisoned, harassed or banned writers BEFORE AN ASSEMBLED AUDIENCE at Global Importune's

Persecuted Writers Project

7 PM, Monday, February 24, 2020

London Central Public Library

Wolf Auditorium

251 Dundas Street in London, Ontario

To VOLUNTEER TO READ, contact, Mark Konrad
Executive Director, Global Importune 519-438-9284

www.globalimportune.org

e-mail: globalimportune@bell.net

This EVENT is FREE and OPEN to all

Volunteer...Participate...Attend !!!

The London Central Public Library celebrates “Freedom to Read Week”

Global Importune’s “Persecuted Writers Project”

When: Monday, February 24, 2020 from 7:00 PM - 8:30 PM

Where: London Public Library, Wolf Auditorium
251 Dundas Street, London, Ontario

Description: During Freedom to Read Week, Canadians all across the country celebrated their right to read whatever material they wish.

Sadly, however there are people in other countries who do not enjoy the same privilege. Some have been and are currently imprisoned merely for their writings and we as a concerned community gather together to give voice to those who can not speak for themselves.

Members of the London community will be reading short passages from the works of imprisoned, harassed or banned writers from around the world.

Raihan Abir is the co-author of Bangladesh’s controversial pro-atheist book Philosophy of Disbelief. Published in 2011, the book has become a potent symbol sparking a wave of murderous violence against secularist in Bangladesh. In 2015, Mr. Abir’s co-author, Avijit Roy, was hacked to death on a street in Dhaka, Bangladesh. The book’s two publishers were both attacked; one managed to survive while the other was killed in his office. Mr. Abir is one of the few people connected to the book who is still alive to talk about it.

Following Mr. Abri’s talk, members of audience will be invited to sign letters of concern on behalf of various Amnesty International persecuted writers.

For more Information: Mark Konrad 519-438-9284

www.globalimportune.org

email: globalimportune@bell.net

This EVENT is FREE and OPEN to the public

READINGS FROM THE WORKS OF PERSECUTED WRITERS

During Freedom to Read Week

London Public Library 251 Dundas St

Monday February 24, 2020 at 7PM

Your support could help free

Amnesty International Political Prisoners in

CANADA

INDONESIA

ISRAEL

POLAND

GREECE

SOUTH KOREA

UNITED STATES

CHINA

ECUADOR

ERITREA

ZIMBABWE

COLOMBIA

ARGENTINA

NIGERIA

SAUDI ARABIA

PALESTINE

MALDIVES

BURMA

BANGLADESH

VIET NAM

Free admission - All welcome to attend

For more Information, contact: Mark Konrad 519-438-9284

globalimportune@bell.net

www.globalimportune.org